Strategic Energy Management in Action

The SEM framework has delivered energy savings to schools across North America, reinvesting dollars back into classrooms, teachers, and students.

Tackle Energy Challenges Most Important to You!

Whether you're looking for support with building automation, enabling behavioral changes at specific campuses, uncovering potential incentives and energy programs, or removing some other energy related obstacle, the SEM Program empowers you and your Energy Coach to focus on what matters to you and tailor the goals of the program to your specific needs.

How to be successful with SEM:

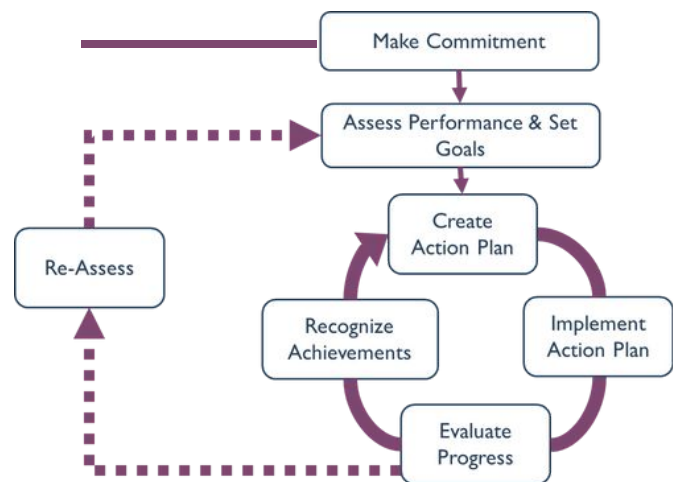

- Commit to reducing energy waste at your sites.
- Participate in monthly meetings and quarterly workshops with your SEM Energy Coach.
- Contribute a few hours to walk through your enrolled sites to find savings opportunities.

"The SEM Program provided our small team with valuable industry knowledge and nationwide perspective on how other organizations were addressing energy challenges."

- Facilities Director, SEM Participant

What is Strategic Energy Management?

01

Continuous improvement
